

Announcement

We received overwhelming response from all corners of the country to the advertisement of PhD admission-2020 of our Centre. We thank all these candidates for their interest in our PhD program. However, based on merit, we could short-list only some of the candidates to appear for an interview.

As all of us know, presently, the world is undergoing a very difficult scenario due to COVID-19. Due to this, travelling has become very difficult and also not advised. Therefore, we decided to conduct online interview during 25-30 May, 2020 and once again we received full cooperation from all those who are called for interview. But, then came the Cyclone Amphan and some of the candidates called for interview belong to the cyclone affected areas in Odisha and West Bengal. We received communications from some of these candidates regarding non-availability of internet connectivity and we want to reassure them that we are always there to help them and they can call us at anytime during 9.30 AM - 5.30PM on all working days or they can even email to phdadmission@cens.res.in to reschedule their interviews. In case, the online interview process is not successful, and there is a genuine need of an in-person interview, we will consider it. However, scheduling of in-person interviews is uncertain and may take place later in the year when the COVID-19 pandemic eases out.

All the best for your interviews!
